A CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOKE?

Recently, I visited MAD Magazine's office to give them a laugh. I dressed up like William M. Gaines, Publisher of MAD, by stuffing a pillow in my shirt and wearing a beard, wig and glasses. I had a lot of fun and may even go back again, in the guise of Alfred E. Neuman.

MINGO'S "BIG CON" COVER

Norman Mingo's "The Big Con" cover is a justifiable "insult" added to "infamy"!
Paul Nichols
New York, N.Y.

The cover of your "Big Con" issue is as much of an American classic in its shameful reference as "Washington Crossing The Delaware" is in its patriotic reference.

Kevin Crisler
Patchogue, N.Y.

Let me make this perfectly clear: Norman Mingo is a genius!

Brian Leibowitz
Harrison, N.Y.

The Mingo cover "The Big Con" was only outdone by your "Poor Richard's Almanac," which was only outdone by your spoof "The Zing," which was only outdone by its subtle visual truism of "Scott Joplin—Music; Marvin Hammish—Exploiter," which was only outdone by the biggest "con" of all, your new inflated price! I always thought your magazine was too much; now I know it's too much!

POOR RICHARD'S ALMANAC

CHINESE WATER TORTURE DEPT.

Recently, some of the big creative brains in Hollywood decided to revive the old-fashioned "Private Eye Mystery Movie!" At least, that's what the publicity releases about the picture say. Actually, the only old-fashioned things about this picture are the clothes and the cars! The rest is very "today" . . . complicated, long-winded and dull! And the hero? Well, he's a . . .

Mr. Burley, I have bad news for you! My boys and I have tailed your wife . . . and these photos tell you all you want to know!

Now . . . here's a shot of her making out with her lover in a 1936 Packard!

Oh . . . no!

And here they are, fooling around at a Marx Brothers movie!

Not that! Please . . .

Here they are messing around in a hotel room during one of Pres. Roosevelt's radio speeches!

I can't stand it anymore!!

This was taken at the San Francisco World's Fair . . .

STOP!! That's ENOUGH!

I'm really sorry, Mr. Burley! I know it's tough to find out that your wife is fooling around with another man!

I don't CARE about that! It's THIS! Don't tell me this is gonna be another 1930's MOVIE!! My God, how much more nostalgia can America TAKE?!!

Well . . . I'm the "Fastest SUIT in the West!!"

That's ridic—Hey! What happened to the white suit you were wearing two seconds ago . . . ?!?

AH-HAH! You see . . . ?

Say! Maybe it's gonna work out after all!

Sure it is! Trust me!

gclown

ARTIST: MORT DRUCKER

WRITER: LARRY SIEGEL

Let me explain the movie business to you! In the old days, good stories and fine acting were important! But today, it's more than that! Today, you MUST fill the screen with 40-year-old fashions, antique furniture and old cars! Understand?

Sure! I get it! In other words, today people are paying good money for JUNK!!

Right!

But this film's gonna be different! It's gonna be a real old fashioned "Private Eye Movie!" It takes place in Los Angeles in the late 30's ... and I'm Joke Giddy, Private Eye!

Big deal! If you're a Private Eye, what's your gimmick? All them old-fashioned shamuses had shticks!

I know! Humphrey Bogart owned "tough" ... William Powell owned "suave" ... Brian Donlevy owned "short!" So I needed something NEW! And here it is! My shtick is "Snappy Dressing!"

You've heard of the "Fastest GUN in the West?"

Mr. Giddy, I want you to get the goods on my Husband! He's fooling around with another woman! Perhaps you've heard of him—Horace Mulebray, the Chief Engineer with the Los Angeles Water Dept.?

Wow! A case dealing with the Water Dept. and Reservoirs and Inside Doings in the City Government! What a dynamite plot for a Private Eye movie! William Powell never had anything like it!

No ... DICK Powell did! He solved it in a Busby Berkeley Musical!

As you can see, Los Angeles is in the midst of severe water crisis! There's nothing we can do! The city is in trouble!

We can't! We're operating on a shoestring! We have no money, no material and no personnel! We can't even build a DAM!

You're exaggerating! How about putting up more reservoirs?!!

Why not?

Our beaver is sick!

Now, that's trouble!!

And now, to tell us more about our water system, here is Chief Engineer, Horace Mulebray—

It's about time! Now, I'll finally get a chance to see this dynamic swinger in the flesh! I wonder who he's fooling around with...? A chorus girl? A fan dancer...?

Hi, there, all you Water Department fans...

A middle-aged mah jongg player?

As you know, the volume of storage in our reservoirs is expressed in millions of cubic meters—

Grandma Moses??

Can you remember the last time you had so much fun...?

I think it was in June, when I had a hernia operation!

Hey, look what's running down the aisle of this water Department hearing!

I can't believe it!!

... 53
... 54
... 55
SHEEP!!

Boy, our Director is brilliant...!

Yeah! What a switch! Having the audience count sheep to STAY AWAKE!!

This case is getting more puzzling by the minute! All those unanswered questions!!

Exactly who is Mulebray fooling around with?

How come he's secretly inspecting all of the reservoirs?

Why am I walking through a dry river bed in a tuxedo?

Shouldn't I be wearing a white dinner jacket in the afternoon?

Joke... I found the broad Mulebray is fooling around with!

Good work, Daffy! Let's tail the old codgers for a month and get plenty of pictures! We'll take our time, and do the job right!

She's a gorgeous 20-year-old blonde!

Quick! Grab the camera! He may not live through another night!

Well, the papers are full of the scandal! I uncovered! But the case isn't really solved yet! There's some connection between Mulebray, the blonde, and the water shortage! Yep, there's one small piece to this puzzle that's missing! If I could find it, everything would fall into place!

Mr. Giddy, I am Mrs. Horace Mulebray! The REAL Mrs. Horace Mulebray! I never hired you to check up on my Husband! I love him, and he loves me, and I'm going to sue you for libel, slander, defamation of character and—

No... that's not it!!

If you're the REAL Mrs. Mulebray, why did that woman hire me to prove your Husband is messing around like crazy?

Mr. Giddy... my Husband is faithful!

Are you kidding? He's been spending all his time with this gorgeous young blonde... in hotel rooms... in the backs of cars... all over town! He never leaves her side... night or day!

I TOLD you he was faithful!

Well, I'm gonna see your Mr. Mulebray myself, and get to the bottom of this!

Can you tell me where the Horace Mulebray house is ...?

That's it ... on top of the hill!

WHAT?!? That one?!?
I—I can't believe that a guy who works for the City lives in a plush villa like that!! How do I get there?

You make a right at the Police Chief's mansion, go past the Fire Chief's chateau, and turn left at the Garbage Commissioner's estate ...

I'm sorry, Mr. Giddy, but my Husband is not at home!

Gee, I still can't get over this incredible place! How does a man who works for the Water Department build a house like this!

He didn't build it, silly!

Aha! I knew it!

Actually, he bought it from the Dog Catcher!

ENOUGH already!

I wonder where Mulebray is? I lost his trail at this dam! Well, if it isn't my old friend, Lt. Escargot!

Hi, Joke! I haven't seen you since we both walked a beat in Chinatown!

Don't remind me of Chinatown!! Understand?!? Never, never say ANYTHING that reminds me of CHINATOWN!

Okay! Okay! So you still can't face life, can you, Joke? So you're still yellow?

YELLOW! I told you not to remind me of Chinatown! No, whatever you do ... don't say "lechee nuts!"

Why the hell should I say "lechee nuts?"

You said it! You said it!

Okay, now what are you doing here, Joke?

I'm looking for Horace Mulebray, the dullest, most boring man who ever lived!

There he is! He's DEAD!

How can you tell?

Don't get smart! We found him drowned, with a one ton weight tied to his feet!

WON-TON! WON-TON! You did it again!!

I wonder how Mulebray could have drowned! Let's see ... the last time I saw him, he was walking through this reservoir, which has been bone-dry for the past five years! Then ...

Wait a minute! glub glub It may not be much ... glub glub ... but I think I've got a clue!!

I was thinking! This movie is two hours old already, and there's been practically no sex! Can you think of anything to say that will lead to a carefully-motivated, soft, tender love scene that's appropriate for a picture that Critics will acclaim as one of the greatest films of our time?

Yecch! What a mess! Hey! You wanna help me clean my nose?

THAT did it!! Darling, I love you! Kiss me...

Oh, boy... bloody noses really turn me on!

How do you feel about a punch in the mouth?

Later... Darling! Later!

I know that it's painful for you, but tell me about Chinatown?

Well, okay! But just this once! Y'know how it is to fall in love for the first time? Well, it happened to me twelve years ago! And I lost my love in Chinatown! Now... don't ever remind me of Chinatown again!!

Poor Darling! Now, while I'm getting dressed, how would you like a Fortune...

Don't say it! DON'T SAY IT!

... MAGAZINE to read! Ha-ha! Had you going for a minute, didn't I? Bet you thought I was going to say, "Fortune COOKIE!"

AAAARRRGH!!

She said that she had to go someplace, and that I shouldn't follow her! But I followed her anyway... and look at that! It's the young blonde that old Mulebray was fooling around with! I wonder what the connection is between them? I wonder where all this will lead to? I wonder if anybody cares??

C'mon! Talk! What's the blonde to you?

She's my Sister!

SLAP

She's my Daughter!

SLAP

She's my Sister!

AND my Daughter!!

SLAP SLAP

She's my Sister...

AND my Daughter...

AND my Father is my HUSBAND!!

SLAP SLAP SLAP

Because he's HER Father!!

SLAP SLAP SLAP SLAP

Shouldn't that be ONE slap?!

Sorry! That's better!

Well, Joke! The case is just about solved!

Mrs. Mulebray gave her husband permission to fool around with her Sister— Daughter so she could fool around with other guys!

Crass hired the fake Mrs. Mulebray to frame Mr. Mulebray, who was on to his land-swindle, and because he also wanted to fool around with his Daughter— Granddaughter!!

Then Crass killed Mulebray! And now, we're ready for the big showdown! And guess where we all meet for the Grand Finale! C'mon, take ONE TEENSY GUESS!

Golly, gee, I haven't the vaguest idea!!

AUDIENCE...?!?
Hmmm! They're all asleep out there, so I guess I'll have to tell you!

CHINATOWN!!
No! No! Not Chinatown! I can't go back there! It's too painful!!

Pain?! Pain?! What do YOU know about pain?!? Look what that Audience out there has been through!

W-what happened?
Bad news ... and good news!

What's the bad news?
THIS horrible scene ...

And the good news ... ?
Joke just found his lost love ... here in Chinatown!

Hey, what IS this, Joke ... ? HE's the love you lost in Chinatown!

Not HIM, dummy! A SHIRT!! Twelve years ago, I gave the very first shirt I ever owned to this guy to launder! And then ... I lost the ticket!

No tickee, no shirtee!

Tonight, I found tickee! And now you get shirtee!

That's crazy! How can anyone love a shirt?

I might as well level with you! I was caught on the rebound ... after a tragic affair with a sports jacket!

Gee ... I guess all's well that ends well!

Er—not quite!!

IDIOT! Can't you remember ANYTHING? I said NO STARCH!

Public Opinion Polls and Surveys are playing an increasingly important role in America today. If someone decides to run for President, or introduces a new toilet bowl cleaner, the first thing he does is have a Poll taken to see what his chances are of being elected . . . or having his product dumped into the nation's Johns. Are these polls necessary, and do they give a true cross section of public opinion? Well, you sure won't find out the answers to these questions by reading this article! But join us anyway as we interview

MAD'S POLL-TAKER OF THE YEAR

ARTIST: PAUL COKER, JR.

WRITE: LOU SILVERSTONE

Hi! I'm Bill Mussel, and I'm here to interview "MAD's Polltaker Of The Year," Dr. Garner Trivia, President of the Institute of Scientific Statistical Research Opinion Survey! Man, that's quite a mouthful! What does it mean?

It means money in the bank! I used to call my outfit "The Trivia Poll," and I was starving! Then I discovered that people would be more impressed and shell out more bread if I used a name with a lot of scientific words!

That's cool! How did you make this amazing discovery, Dr. Trivia? By taking a poll??

Don't be an idiot! Who listens to polls?? I read it in a Freshman Psychology book!

And please—don't refer to us as "Polltakers," Bill! We're "Opinion Researchers"! It's the same as calling you Sports Announcers who fill in between beer commercials: "Sports Analysts" or "Color Men"!

Smile when you say that, Man!

Huh? Oh . . . heh-heh! No offense!

This is our most important Department!

Oh? Is this where you keep the money?

No! But if it weren't for this key Department, we wouldn't MAKE any money! This is our Public Relations section! It's their job to convince the Public that by polling a few hundred people, we can actually tell what over 200 million are thinking!

What are these computers for?

They impress my customers, and they're a great tax write-off!

Actually, this is our most important piece of equipment!

Yeah . . . I see what you mean, Doc!

I'm talking about the TELEPHONE, Bill! This young lady is taking a telephone survey of opinion on a vital issue!

I'm conducting a survey, sir! What brand of bubble gum do you find makes the best bubbles?

Hey! I thought you said it was a vital issue!

It is, if you own a Bubble Gum Factory!

I don't chew bubble gum, Lady! I wear false teeth!

Do any members of your family chew Slop's Bubble Gum?

My son LeRoy! He doesn't exactly chew it! He buys it for the BASEBALL CARDS, and throws the gum away!

This is an example of a concerned manufacturer spending a fortune to find out how the Public feels about his product!

He'd be better off if he spent the money trying to improve his lousy GUM!

Miss Trumlin, if our clients spent their money improving their products instead of on surveys and advertising, we'd all be out of work!

Most of our clients are manufacturers who spend millions advertising useless products like mouth wash and deodorants, Bill! Then they hire us to get opinions about their products from the Public!

And if there's an unfavorable reaction, they make changes in their products . . . ?

Of course not, Dummy! If there's an unfavorable reaction, they make changes in their ADVERTISING!

The TV Networks depend on surveys, don't they? How do you find out which Shows are the most popular?

We use two different highly scientific Survey Systems! The first is called the "Chance Factor Method"! We merely pick out telephone numbers at random, and . . .

Hey . . . how would YOU like to make this Survey Call . . . ?

Hello! I'm taking a TV Survey! Do you watch the "NBA Game Of The Week"?

I—I think a dog answered! All he says is "Woof!"

Well, don't waste the phone call!

One woof means "Yes!"

Two woofs mean "No!" And three woofs mean "No Opinion!"

And THIS is why shows like "Julia" and "Barefoot In The Park" were CANCELLED?!

The other method is by use of an Audimeter! We attach 1000 of these gadgets to sets all over the country, and whatever Shows the families watch are recorded! This data is then passed on to the TV Networks!

Do they pay much for this information?

Oh, about five million dollars!

Man, no wonder I can't get a raise! They spend all the bread finding out if anybody is watching me!

Do these families get paid?

Sure! We pick up their TV repairs, and pay them 50¢ a week!

Man, that is unbelievable!

What? That the Networks pay millions for information they could get themselves for less than half the price?

No... that you found 1000 people who would do something for 50¢! I can't even get my kid to guard my hubcaps for less than a buck!

I never met anyone that has been questioned by a poll! How do you decide who you are going to interview?

We use what is known in statistical circles as the Law of Probability! We choose a typical neighborhood at random...

What typical neighborhood did it land in?

Hey, it landed in HARLEM!

Hmmm! I'd better try again! THAT neighborhood is just a little TOO typical!!

Here we are in our alternate typical neighborhood...

Why are we skipping that house?

Because it's on the corner! People who live in the corner houses aren't typical! They're richer than their neighbors!

Yeah, but suppose only people who live in corner houses watch the "NBA Game Of The Week"! My rating would be ZERO!!

Who's out there? Go away! We don't want any!

I'm not selling anything! I just want to ask you a question!

Boy, this business is getting tough! People used to tell you anything! Today, they won't even open the door!

What question were you going to ask?

Whether they felt that it was safe to walk the streets?

Suppose that most people just do not understand an issue? How can you get an accurate survey?

We phrase the question so it can be answered by a moron! Then people can express opinions on things they don't know a damned thing about! Listen...

Pardon me, sir! I'd like to ask you a question: Do you think the U.S. should devalue the dollar to make it more competitive on the international money market? Answer "yes" or "no"!

Duhh—yes, dey should devalue—uh—like you said!

And the U.S. Government makes decisions on information like THIS???

Let's go back to the office! I'll finish the rest of these surveys myself!

Hey... that's cheating!!

Ahh, nobody'll know the difference! Besides, on what I pay my Field Men, I'm sure most of them fake their surveys anyway! So why shouldn't I enjoy the same privilege as my hired help??

The average American Family has one thing in common with the average American Corporation: both bicker constantly about money because neither seems capable of showing a satisfactory profit despite ever increasing income. The Chairman of the Board can't really explain what happened to this year's extra billion dollars any more than the Head of the House can figure out where this year's extra thousand went. But Corporation Executives do have a decided edge when it comes to silencing money squabbles. They cover up their extravagant mistakes with vague references to "non-recurring costs" and optimistic predictions for a brighter tomorrow. MAD sees no reason why Families shouldn't utilize the same sneaky device. Just think how the shouting would be stifled if Moms, Dads and kids were given yearly opportunities to write up their dreams for a better future as each of them busily blames the present financial mess on somebody else in....

COMPARISON OF 1974 FLAXBENDER REVENUES WITH THOSE OF OTHER SELECTED UNDERTAKINGS

Encouraging graph (above) shows that last year Flaxbenders performed better financially than two out of three comparable organizations picked entirely at random for an intensive study.

LONG TERM COMPARISON OF ANNUAL INCOME & OUTLAY FIGURES

A tremendous upsurge in Dad's earnings from overtime and moonlighting coupled with leadership decision to misplace almost $700 in unpaid bills, resulted in an unprecedented 1973 prosperity that created the wonderful illusion we finally broke even.

Annual Message From Dad

As you already have been notified verbally, the Flaxbender "team" finished fiscal 1974 with results that were not satisfactory to your leadership. Such unprofitable undertakings as Martha Jean's dental work, Sonny's totaling of the Buick, and Mom's idiotic purchase of a muskrat coat combined to wipe out an anticipated surplus, despite record gross revenues of $21,658 contributed by Yours Truly.

In topping the magic "twenty grand" figure for the first time in history, Dad again operated at 100% of his maximum work capacity throughout the calendar year, and was the financial stand-out in an otherwise lack-luster family effort. By giving up golf to put in more Saturday overtime at the plant, and devoting most free week-nights to moonlighting in the aluminum awning sales field, the Head of the House clearly risked a heart attack in order to make up deficits reported by all subsidiary Flaxbenders. Additionally, it should be noted that Dad's Poker Night losings were pared to a few lousy bucks in the year just ended.

Chief disappointments among the new financial ventures undertaken by junior members of the team were Sonny's Lawn Mowing Service, which grossed only $32.75 after a $149.00 outlay for a power mower, and Martha Jean's baby sitting, which fell an incredible $216 short of covering the cost of new clothes needed to do the work properly. It is to be hoped that both endeavors can turn the corner profitwise in '75. Or else!

Over all, the year ahead appears to hold some promise for achieving our first measurable surplus since we started having children. The recent death of the dog happily relieves us of a burdensome Purina Chow bill, and also enables us to skip paying the veterinarian for past services. On another front, the news that Ethel's brother lost his mind and was committed leads management to the cheery conclusion that he probably forgot about the $500 we owe him. Therefore, that debt is now being written off as paid, in compliance with the family's normal accounting procedures.

In the final analysis, however, hopes for putting the Flaxbenders into the black for '75 depend chiefly upon subsidiary family members and their desire to cut costs in all operating areas. To achieve that motivation, all that any of us need do is ask ourselves one simple budgetary question: How badly do we really want that A-1 Bench Power Saw that old Dave Gleckny down at the plant is willing to let me have for only $150?

Respectfully submitted,
Elroy N. Flaxbender,
Devoted Husband & Father

CHIEF FAMILY BREADWINNER Elroy N. Flaxbender poses for formal portrait in his newest suit, a $39.95 Robert Hall clearance special purchased in 1962. During fiscal 1974, Dad's gross outlay for clothing and booze amounted to less than $1,000.

CUTTING FISCAL DEFICIT. Dad is shown returning home from a rough day of working overtime in order to pay for thoughtless extravagances of family subsidiaries. (Note baggy trouser knees incurred to save sixty cents for professional pressing.)

GOLDEN INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY IS MISSED. At recent Auto Show, Dad spotted blue chip growth potential in this underpriced $4,600 camper. Purchase was not made due to opposition by Motherhood Division manager. The very same vehicle is now selling at $4,950, its all time market high.

REPORTS FROM SUB

The Homemaking & Motherhood Branch Recaps 1974

RESISTING HIGH BEAUTICIANS' CHARGES. Mom here displays results of cheap home permanent that saved family $15, and also required her to wear a wool ski cap in public all through months of July and August.

As we close out another year, it remains a mystery to me how a person is supposed to feed and clothe a family of five on the miserable household allowance I get. Lord knows I do the best I can. But it simply gets to the point where, I mean, good grief!

Even that little fat fellow with glasses hired by the president to go on Walter Cronkite and tell us how prosperous we are has finally admitted that prices are outrageous. As if a person wouldn't already know when all you have to do is walk into the market with a twenty-dollar bill to find out how far it goes. Noplace! That's how far it goes!

And yet, there's our family leader, Mr. Big Mouth Zipwallet, sitting across the dinner table yammering about not being able to stomach a main dish of cauliflower au gratin two nights in a row. In addition to which, that's after I've slaved away sprinkling parsley over the top to make it look nice. And also after I've gone without the clothes any woman needs to put on her back, which is another story altogether.

In closing, may I say that doing the marketing in an old VW with bent fenders that won't start half the time is no picnic for a sensitive person either. If the Homemaking and Motherhood Dept. were provided with even half-way decent transportation, there is no doubt that a large number of ingenious cost-cutting operations could be put into effect in fiscal 1975. Especially if it should happen to be a lavender Mustang.

(Mrs.) Ethel Flaxbender

A Word From Sonny On Fiscal '74

Writing as a scholar whose good marks in high school already have qualified me for admission to a top rated college, I shall begin my report by paraphrasing a deep thought of Karl Marx written in a book I glanced through recently: "The desire of capitalists to conserve cash is the big thing that will make their system collapse from inner rottenness."

Since Karl Marx was a known Communist with a beard and long hair of the type Dad hates, I have assumed the patriotic task of putting all but $8.45 of my money back into circulation in the year just ended. I feel sure Dad would have wanted it that way, if he could only understand that I am just striving to help him fight off the Red Menace.

However, we now enter 1975 with the family again falling into the trap of Kremlin schemers by preparing to enroll me at tuition-free Inner City Junior College instead of dipping into capitalist savings to send me to Fraternity State. Let all God fearing Flaxbenders devoutly pray that this reactionary plan may yet be changed, especially since a couple of coeds at Fraternity State are already expecting me there.

On other matters of significance for fiscal 1974, I point with pride to my vastly enlarged record collection, my guitar amplifier purchase, and my proven talent for faking affluence on less than $20 a week. These accomplishments have done much to prevent the world from learning that my father's financial policies are hastening the day of the Marxist revolution in America.

With deepest alarm,
Bertram (Sonny) Flaxbender
Eldest Son & Logical Heir

ENTERPRISING JOB SEEKER. Sonny frequently put in long hours poring over Help Wanted column in desperate search for work. Unfortunately, no ads ever appeared for film critics, Geeks or apprentice bongo drummers.

SIDIARY DIVISIONS

This Year's Comment From Martha Jean

As the family spokesperson for exploited young womanhood everywhere, I tragically report that I sacrificed all my chances for future happiness in 1974 in order to save Daddy a few paltry dollars which he could well afford. This disaster was achieved by: (1) Not going to Daytona Beach with the crowd for spring vacation; (2) Letting another whole winter pass without even learning how to ski, and (3) Simply staying home while Wanda Warthberger went up to the lake the very same week that Roger Newby was there.

Although locking myself in my room to cry my eyes out probably pleased Daddy because it didn't cost him any money, this department thinks it's short sighted to raise a charming daughter who will now have to spend her entire life as an old maid librarian or an old maid nun. It was this very same lack of vision by parents that caused them to start World War II when they were my age.

Despite having no future to look forward to, this division continued to contribute greatly to family income in 1974 by baby sitting on at least four occasions, knitting almost half a sweater to save on the clothes budget and, as previously indicated, not having any dates with Roger Newby which might have entailed going Dutch.

In the year ahead, I plan to write either a novel or a sonnet based on my tragic life, which I will then sell for a lot of money to make Mom and Daddy aware of the fact that I exist as a person.

Very courageously yours,
Martha Jean Flaxbender
Chief Unappreciated Individual

MARTHA JEAN PUTS UP BRAVE FRONT. Pictured here reading a fan magazine bought with her own money, the Flaxbenders' lovely daughter consoles herself with the knowledge that many gorgeous male recording stars also came from underprivileged homes and backgrounds.

Leonard Theodore Speaks Out Financially

ENTERPRISING LEONARD THEODORE is shown here operating summer vacation lemonade stand which contributed almost 35¢ to family income, not counting cost of 48 lemons, 2 lb. sugar and 5 broken glasses.

I didn't spend hardly anything on anything last year, excepting for things which were very important. Like the five-dollars which all the kids in Miss Runk's home room had to bring for Xmas pageant costumes, and which Miss Runk said was very important because without the five dollars, we couldn't show how much we love the Baby Jesus. Daddy thought this was important, too, because when I told him I needed five-dollars, the first thing he said was, "Sweet Baby Jesus!"

Also, five-dollars isn't hardly anything compared to what Stanley Zimmerman's father plans to spend. He is only a City Councilman, which probably doesn't pay much, but he came to home room one day and told us how he wants to spend a couple of million dollars on a new playground for our school. That is much more than five-dollars, although Stanley Zimmerman says his father also owns a company that builds playgrounds, so he will probably get one wholesale.

Except for my Baby Jesus money, I didn't spend hardly anything on anything. Only just for popsicles which now cost five-cents more but are smaller, even though Daddy doesn't give me any more money to buy them than he did when they cost five-cents less and were bigger.

Which is mainly why my main financial plan for 1975 is that I plan to ask for a dollar a week allowance instead of fifty-cents, and also plan to hold my breath until my face turns black and I die if I don't get it.

Love,
Leonard Theodore Flaxbender

INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANT'S REPORT

Having glanced over all these figures thrown at me by the Flaxbenders (a Delaware family), I can positively state that I guess they probably may be okay.

I mean this stuff is nothing like the examples printed in our text for Bookkeeping II where all the figures come out right at the end and like that. But as Mr. Flaxbender explained to me, it's easy to get numbers to come out right when you're just making them all up to put in a textbook, and don't have to pay any attention to how things would have come out if they had actually happened to real people.

That seems to make sense. Besides, these are all Mr. Flaxbender's figures, and if he isn't worried about getting them to come out right, I don't see why I should get upset.

In addition, he told me that everything in here conforms with accounting procedures that are normal for him, so I guess that means the whole thing probably may be okay.

FLAXBENDER

A NAME TO BE A LOT MORE
RESPECTED IN THE FUTURE

Frequent vow by Ethel's doddering, infirm parents that "Someday this will all be yours!" prompts management to envision a solvent, worry-free fiscal status by 1977.

Leonard Theodore, fortunately unaware that Presidential wage guidelines don't apply to his allowance, is warned that seeking an increase will prompt Ford to come get him. This lie will save the family about $3.00 per year.

Despite past difficulties in bringing capital outlay into phase with net receipts, your leadership remains confident that brighter long range prospects can eventually result in acquisitions that will be the envy of the neighbors. This projected status turn-around could begin as early as the fiscal third quarter of 1975, especially if Sonny and Martha Jean get off their duffs and land summer jobs once school lets out.

Looking further into the future, a management study of actuarial tables reveals that Ethel's parents are due to wheeze their last gasp sometime between late 1976 and early 1977. The resulting juicy inheritance will go far toward putting the family on Easy Street. Plans for the long awaited flake-out already have been made, and call for the Flaxbenders' prompt entry into such diverse activities as yachting, summer cottage acquisition, and possibly even maid hireage. This forthcoming show of affluence obviously will raise the stock of the entire family in the eyes of such neighbors as those loud mouthed Flanagans down on the corner, who are forever bragging about their fat, sissy kid attending Dartmouth.

Holding even greater future promise is Dad's brilliant plan for quitting his job to buy a Pizza Paradise franchise. With Ethel manning the oven to cut overhead expense, the sale of as few as 3,000 pepperoni and mushroom specials each week could produce wealth undreamed of, even by those loud mouthed Flanagans down on the corner.

To summarize, your trusted leader feels strongly that past family performance should be ignored in assessing future potential. This will be especially true if our rich relatives in Omaha come through with a requested loan to tide us over until Ethel's parents finally conk out. Such brilliantly conceived financial transactions have made Flaxbender a name to be reckoned with in the neighborhood before, and can do so again.

Dad admires Pizza Paradise outlet similar to the one he soon hopes to open and reap fabulous profits. New franchises are still available for only $10,000, excluding minor costs of building, equipment, supplies and labor.

Ethel's contribution to coming affluence will be a color TV set, due when she saves another 216½ books of trading stamps. At present rate of collecting, the family can look forward to watching the 1989 World Series in living color.

Hopeful sign for the future is Sonny's admiration (shown here) for Family Doctor W. Pritchard's new Rolls Royce. Sonny has learned that by working his way through Med School he too could charge high fees and buy a Rolls.

One of the silliest trends on TV the past few seasons has been “The Ethnic Detective Show.” We’ve had Banaceck, Kodiak, Kolchak, Nakia...and one guy who’s become the top-rated TV Cop of them all. Yes, we’re talking about that charismatic, burly Greek with the cute mannerisms and the gleaming skull. So, lower the “brightness” in your room, and get ready for MAD’s version of . . .

WRITER: ARNIE KOGEN

Kojerk, the Department's been getting complaints about you! You've been roughing up our suspects a little too much!

C'mon, Chief! I only lean on 'em if they give me any lip, or if they committed some atrocious crime!

I'm in a very, very ugly mood!

Gee, Kojerk is really mad! What did the guy do?

Petty theft...

All THAT for petty theft?!!

He stole Kojerk's lollipops!!

We better stop it!! Kojerk may kill him!!

Let's get down to business, Kojerk! We've got a dead man on our hands!

Don't tease me! Show me the body!

It's your assistant! Cracker!

Aw, he's not dead! He's just very bland!

So I'm NOT a 250-pound Greek "Mr. Clean!" And I'm NOT a reject from a "Marty Allen Look-Alike Contest!" I'm just a simple, ordinary guy with an average haircut!

Okay! Okay! Don't be sore! I guess there's gotta be ONE freak on every Police Force!

Hey, you guys! It's Friday night in "Fun City!" Better get out and start cruisin'!

Okay, I'm Lt. Kojerk... Manhattan South! What's the problem?

Where was he shot?

That's Manhattan NORTH!! We can't help you!

Kojerk's the most dedicated Cop I know... but only below 50th Street!

This man's been shot!

On 63rd Street!

Well... what have we here?

That's Manhattan WEST! A little out of my area!

A little warning, Mister! Never carry cash in New York! Always carry American Express Travelers Checks!

I'm an out-of-towner, from San Francisco!

But my pocket was picked HERE! I had six hundred dollars in cash on me!

Help!
HELP!
I just saw a pervert!

What did the pervert look like,
Ma'am?

A huge bald man, sucking
a lollipop and staring at me with a big, toothy grin! I want the Police!

We can't help you,
Lady! That
IS the Police!!

Let's face it, Kojerk!
A bald Greek detective
sucking a lollipop
DOES look kinda weird!

I realize it makes me look immature and eccentric! That's why, to instill a note of dignity to my character,
I occasionally chew a Tootsie Roll!

Well... if you must know, it's my "TV

I suck a lollipop!
Every time I take a lick, it means 2.3
points in the ratings!

Is that the REAL reason?

Well, no! Actually, I'm into a whole "image trip!"
It's my "machismo scene!"
Girls dig it! Men respect it! The lollipop makes me "human," "vulnerable,"
a "loveable little boy!"

You're STILL not leveling with me! Okay, what's the
REAL reason!

Actually, I
love the li'l

Rizzioli...!

Gi'me a dead...

right?

here in the

I will... in a moment! Right now,
I want to pause dramatically and drag on this Tiparillo in my cute "thumb and forefinger" style! I've discovered that this move adds another 1.8 points to our ratings!

Okay... here's my theory!
There was no gun! Rizzioli was killed by a SWORD because he knew about the Turkish Counterfeit Ring, and also the Wall Street

That's incredible!

of TV episodes!

What happened? Any luck?

Well, I didn't find the killer, but I think the disguise worked pretty good!

I didn't even mind being rolled down the "gutter!" But coming through the "return ball" chute was murder!

Whew! After that, I need a break!

SHEEPSHEAD BAY LANES

Hi! YOU'RE my break!

Kojerk, is it true that bald men are more virile than guys with hair?

Well, it's true in MY case! But it's frightening to think that Don Rickles could be more in demand at an orgy than Robert Redford!

It must be great to be bald! Imagine ... no brushing ... no messy shampoos ... no frizzies!

Yeah ... there's less hair to comb! But then again, there's more face to wash!

Kojerk ... how come you're always dating Police Women ... ?

I like taking the Law into my own hands!

Well, I'm off to the Statue of Liberty! I'm gonna slap her around a little! I think the Lady of Steel knows a lot more than she's telling, an I'm gonna—

I'm afraid it's too late for your crazy hunches, Kojerk! We've found our murderer!

You—you have? Who is it ... ?

STAYFROZE! Those plants he's been growing for two years were Marijuana! Rizzioli found out about it, and Stayfroze killed him! So it turns out Stayfroze is the "heavy" in this story!

He's not the heavy! He's my Brother!

I—I can't believe it! Kojerk, the great Greek detective ... unable to solve a lousy crime!

I guess this means I'm all washed up, eh, Chief ... ?

Not exactly, Kojerk! We still have a place for you on the Force ...

Pardon me ... but is this the Manhattan South Police Station?

S'matter, Creep? Can't you READ??
